It's unlikely that our methods of generation and collection have changed in the last eight million years, and the more likely explanation is that this data was collected by beings with vastly different methods and motivations than us, and somehow it made its way here. The data's known existence is a reason to believe in the aliens, not to rule them out. It's about time we found out more about what's out there. / * Copyright (c) 2013-present, Facebook, Inc. * * This source code is licensed under the MIT license found in the * LICENSE file in the root directory of this source tree. */ 'use strict'; var d3 = require('d3'); / * D3 version of Object.assign. * * @param {...Object} var_args Objects to assign from other arguments. * @return {Object} the result of merging all of the specified objects together. */ var argsAssign = d3.keys(d3.values).reduce(function(obj, key) { obj[key] = d3.values(arguments)[key]; return obj; }, {}); / * D3 version of Object.assign. * * @param {...Object

Do not forget to.Q: Unable to create a solr JBoss solrcore I am trying to configure a local instance of solr 4.0.0 on a JBoss 7 server, however the commands I have tried keep throwing the following exception: Stopping SolrCore'solr': org.apache.solr.common.SolrException: Unable to create core'solr': C:\solr-4.0.0\solr\example\data\solr\core\example. If I try the same thing on a normal JBoss 5.1 instance I can create the core, however it comes up as not being started. Any ideas on why this is happening? A: The reason I could not get it to work is because the solr-4.0.0.war file and the example folder are part of the war file. I had to unzip it before I could run the solr server. Q: Routing for a hidden page I have two pages. Homepage is shown on the main page, whereas the second page is to be displayed by clicking a button. As the first page is the home page, I don't want to route it. How can I hide it using urlrewrite? The button is on the second page. I want to have urls like: www.example.com/Homepage/p1 www.example.com/Homepage/p2 www.example.com/Homepage/p2?p2 and so on. A: In your.htaccess, the following code will rewrite your URL to whatever you want: RewriteEngine On RewriteRule ^Homepage/p1 /MyPage.php?p1 [NC] RewriteRule ^Homepage/p2 /MyPage.php?p2 [NC] Update: Added the 'NC' at the end of the rule.
