I ask because when my app crashes - the serializable property is not included in the crash report. I am assuming the reason it is not included is because it's not required. Thanks in advance A: "Required" does not mean that it won't crash if it is null. It just means that it will throw an exception in the constructor instead of showing a message box that the serializable property is null. Use "NotNull" instead. The effects of photoperiodic history on the secretion of melatonin and reproductive behaviour in the Japanese quail, Coturnix japonica. Two groups of 50 Japanese quail were raised under two different photoperiodic regimens. One group of birds was transferred from 14L : 10D to 8L : 16D (controls) at 42 d of age, while the other group of birds was transferred from 12L : 12D to 8L : 16D (stimulated) at 42 d of age. After these manipulations, both groups of birds were kept under 12L : 12D for the remainder of their lives. The control birds showed typical seasonal reproductive behaviour, whereas the stimulated birds failed to show the characteristic phase change of the endogenous melatonin secretion rhythm (14L : 10D: 10 : 40 min, 8L : 16D: 10 : 40 min). The blood concentration of melatonin was significantly lower in the stimulated quail than in the controls. These results suggest that the plasma melatonin concentration reflects the phase of the endogenous rhythm in the quail.Tilahun Hailu Tilahun Hailu (Amharic: ጉሊህ ስላሴ) is an Ethiopian politician and current minister of commerce and energy of Ethiopia.
